| Get a copy of your health and claims records                                 | - You can ask to see or get a copy of your health and claims records and other health information we have about you. Ask us how to do this.
  - We will provide a copy or a summary of your health and claims records, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee. |
| Ask us to correct health and claims records                                  | - You can ask us to correct your health and claims records if you think they are incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this.
  - We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days. |
| Request confidential communications                                         | - You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address.
  - We will consider all reasonable requests, and must say “yes” if you tell us you would be in danger if we do not. |
| Ask us to limit what we use or share                                         | - You can ask us not to use or share certain health information for treatment, payment, or our operations.
  - We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care. |
| Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared information                       | - You can ask for a list (accounting) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why.
  - We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months. |
| Get a copy of this privacy notice                                            | - You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly. |
| Choose someone to act for you                                                | - If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information.
  - We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action. |

Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to

• Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in payment for your care

• Share information in a disaster relief situation

If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.

In these cases we never share your information unless you give us written permission

• Marketing purposes

• Sale of your information

How else can we use or share your health information?

We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/index.html.
Help with public health and safety issues
We can share health information about you for certain situations such as:
- Preventing disease
- Helping with product recalls
- Reporting adverse reactions to medications
- Reporting suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence
- Preventing or reducing a serious threat to anyone's health or safety

Do Research
- We can use or share your information for health research

Comply with the law
- We will share information about you if Massachusetts or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we're complying with federal privacy law.
- We will not share information about treatment of substance abuse, mental health, HIV, and like conditions without first receiving the necessary permission where required by Massachusetts law or federal law.

Respond to organ and tissue donation requests and work with a medical examiner or funeral director
- We can share health information about you with organ procurement organizations.
- We can share health information with a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director when an individual dies.

Address workers’ compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests
We can use or share health information about you:
- For workers’ compensation claims
- For law enforcement purposes or with a law enforcement official
- With health oversight agencies for activities authorized by law
- For special government functions such as military, national security, and presidential protective services

Respond to lawsuits and legal actions
- We can share health information about you in response to a court or administrative order, or in response to a subpoena.

Senior Whole Health will never market or sell personal information.
Our Responsibilities

- We are required by law to maintain the privacy and security of your protected health information.
- We will let you know promptly if a breach occurs that may have compromised the privacy or security of your information.
- We must follow the duties and privacy practices described in this notice and give you a copy of it.
- We will not use or share your information other than as described here unless you tell us we can in writing. If you tell us we can, you may change your mind at any time. Let us know in writing if you change your mind.

For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/noticepp.html.

We follow the following practices to protect your personal and health information:

- SWH employees do not discuss your personal information in public areas, such as restrooms, the elevator, or when outside of the office.
- Electronic information is kept secure through the use of passwords, automatic screen savers and limiting access to only those employees with a “need to know.”
- Written information is kept secure by storing it in locked file cabinets, enforcing “clean desk” practices for employees and using secured shredding bins for destruction.
- All employees receive training on our confidentiality and privacy practices. Employees are required to sign a statement affirming that they have reviewed and agree to abide by SWH’s confidentiality policies.
- All providers and other entities with whom we need to share information are required to sign agreements in which they agree to maintain confidentiality.
- SWH only collects information about you that we need to have in order to provide you with the services you have agreed to receive by enrolling in SWH or as otherwise required by law.

Changes to the Terms of this Notice
